Day 4: Yangtze River Cruise (Meals: B, L, D)

Begin the morning visiting the Three Gorges Dam site. Board a ferry for a relaxing boat trip up a tributary of the Yangtze, which has its own attractive gorges. You will dock very close to the head of the reservoir created by the Three Gorges Dam, and switch into smaller wooden boats called "pea-pod boats." You are then pulled up to the shallow, clear areas further upstream. Sail back to the waiting ferry to return to your Victoria Ship. Sail through the Three Gorges dam shiplocks and Xiling Gorge.

Day 5: Yangtze River Cruise (Meals: B, L, D)

Sail through the Qutang Gorge. Your offshore excursion today is at Wushan, situated at the confluence of the Yangtze and the Daning rivers, just above the western entrance to the Wu Gorge. Wushan is the starting point for the popular boat trips through the Lesser Gorges. Take an optional excursion to the White Emperor City (river conditions permitting).

Day 6: Yangtze River Cruise (Meals: B, L, D)

Your shore excursion today is at Shibaozhai, one of the gems of Chinese architecture. From afar, the protruding 220-meter hill on the north bank can appear to resemble a jade seal, and is so named. A red pavilion hugs one side of this rock. Its tall yellow entrance gate is decorated with lions and dragons and etched with an inscription inviting the visitor to ascend into a "Little Fairyland."
